

Stoichiometry – Reacting masses

Pre-Lesson Assignment P.32

Make notes on reacting masses

Use the following questions as guidance.

1. Show how an equation can be used to work out the ratio of moles of one chemical to another.
2. Using an example, show how the expected mass of a product can be calculated if the reactant mass is known.